February 2010

Dear Prayer Warrior,

Praise the Lord for His continued blessings! The 2010 State Legislature session has started, so each weekday I am in the Capitol Building serving as a missionary to the law makers there. God has opened many doors and allowed for personal meetings with dozens of legislators so far, and several on the governors staff. I am pleased to report that the weekly prayer breakfast is well attended, and we've had many legislators come this year who never before had. The Lord has blessed with churches to preach at each Sunday for the past several months and many more meetings set throughout the year. I am happy to report wonderful responses from these congregations, both for the gospel and for a desire to get involved in calling America back to God.

The struggle for religious liberty continues to be a battle across the country. In Iowa, a Baptist preacher prayed at the opening of a session of their state Senate. However, ending his prayer in "Jesus name" caused an uproar. A message following his prayer said from now on prayers must be "submitted ahead of time" and "non-denominational." Since he didn't pray in the name of "the Baptist", but in the name of Jesus then the Senate message can only mean one thing: "Don't pray in Jesus name." Reminds me of Acts 4:18 "And they called them, and commanded them not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Jesus." I spoke with this pastor and am pleased to report he has no intention to submit his prayers ahead of time for censorship, and continues praying in Jesus' name.

[Prior to learning of this event in Iowa I was privileged to open the Kentucky Senate in prayer "in Jesus name" and was not hindered. Praise be to God. You can learn more about this and other events on the ministry website under the tab: "News & What You Can Do About It."]

Taking a Stand

There will be a pro-life, pro-family rally at the Kentucky State Capitol Building Feb. 20th from noon to two pm. I hope many will attend this event to show the legislators strong public support for these issues.

Did You Know?

The Declaration of Independence and the Constitutions of all 50 States acknowledge God. Trying to remove God from America is unconstitutional!
