January 2010

Dear Prayer Warrior,

Happy New Year! Last year Christians saw victories in the Washington D.C. Visitor's Center when the words "In God We Trust" were reinserted because of people making their voices heard. Other victories include: the Kentucky Governor changing his decision labeling the state's "Holiday" tree to officially a "CHRISTmas" tree, and on the local level a battle was won against pornographic books being available to children in the public library.

The work of the ministry is already in full force for 2010, and this past week was the year's first God and Country revival - resulting in three professions of faith. In addition to preaching on Sundays, with the State Legislature now in session, I now spend the weekdays at the capitol building. The work there includes ministering to the law makers, holding a weekly prayer breakfast, and serving as God's ambassador to the government. The LORD has opened many doors and provided opportunities to speak with the legislators and staff.

This year I hope you will be active in your local church and in your state and national government. There are many issues that will need Christians to stand up and make a difference. With the federal government making dangerous strides toward socialism and out-of-control spending, we must be more vocal than ever. Speak out with both your vote and your voice. I encourage you to often write your state and national representatives. You can find out how to contact them by visiting the website at the bottom of the page.

With many Americans fed up with the march away from traditional values, the rewriting of history, and blatant denial of our Christian heritage, 2010 can be a year of action where we TAKE BACK AMERICA. This can be done by: praying daily for our nation, voting in every election, speaking out on topics, and running for office. Until Christ returns,

Bro. Lee Watts

II Chronicles 7:14

"It cannot be emphasized too strongly or too often that this great nation was founded not by religionists but by Christians, not on religions but on the Gospel of Jesus Christ."
